Washington Letter in Philadelphia Press: During the present season Washington has been in society and taking an interest in the gay life of the Capital, and additionally in its attractions. Among the most notable are Mrs. Hermann, Mrs. Talbot, and Mrs. Nichol. Mrs. Hermann, the wife of the socialist and reformer, Chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means, was Miss Ida Strobel, one of the brightest and most popular young girls of Boone County, Illinois, which is also the native county of her husband. Her father was a leading merchant of Watertown and one of the most influential and active Republicans of Lower Illinois in the famous Lincoln and Douglas campaign for the Senate. Mr. Hermann was Lincoln's candidate for the Legislature and his election was his first political victory. The Strobel family moved to Galesburg, and became Mrs. Hermann's home when she Venice Letter to the New York World: The people are often spoken of as "interesting." All nations are represented. There is no Venetian society; there is plenty of society, but very little of it is native. Nearly all the garrison families are entered. A friend of mine who married a celebrated lady opera singer not six months ago has been three times asked to dine with the Ambassadress of one friendly power, entertained three times and called on by the Ambassador's wife, and the greater part of the Embassy has not called.
